Dear Friends,

Please accept my sincere apologies that I cannot be with you today, but know my thoughts are with you as you discuss this matter of great national importance.

Strengthening the resilience of America's electrical grid is vital to the security of our country and its citizens. I'd like to thank the Secure the Grid Coalition, The Center for Security Policy, First Principals, and all of you here today for your work on this important issue. As we become more reliant on electricity to perform essential tasks, it is increasingly vital to our security that we reduce and eliminate any vulnerabilities our electrical grid may have. You have all shown your deep commitment to this goal and I look forward to supporting your efforts in Washington.

On behalf of my constituents across New Hampshire's Second Congressional District, I proudly commend the work that you all are doing to keep us safe. Let this occasion remind us of the power that determined individuals have in shaping the future and strengthening the security of our nation's vital assets. I look forward to our continued work together to make the Granite State a safer place to live, work, and raise a family.

Sincerely,

Ann McLane Kuster
